TREX CHALLENGE

Hello CWMS students and staff, the Trex plastic bag recycling challenge has finally begun! Many of you are aware of our ongoing challenge to continue to be the school that collects the most plastic recyclable film in the nation. This year, we'd like to step up our challenge and make it to 10,000 pounds of plastic collected by the entire CWMS family. Please check your Schoology home page to see our flier showing all of the details on what is acceptable to recycle and what isn't. If in doubt, please check in with Mrs. Meredith. We are very thankful for the plastic we've already collected the last few days, but we did have some bottles, and bottles are not included in this challenge, only plastic film (bag type materials). So, continue to bring in those bags and place them in the collection bins outside the main office, the LGI, or between the 8th grade science classrooms. Thank you for putting our Earth First!

SPOTTED LANTERNFLY

Hey CWMS students! Have you seen that pretty butterfly looking creature around that we've all learned is PRETTY NASTY?? You know what we are talking about, the Spotted Lanternfly! In an effort to continue to raise awareness about the threat of the Spotted Lanternfly, the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture (PDA) has announced its 2018 youth calendar contest for students across the state in grades 1 through 8.

"When an invasive species enters Pennsylvania, we need the help of our communities to eradicate it," said Secretary of Agriculture Russell Redding." This contest will educate students about the threat posed by this invasive insect, help Pennsylvanians better identify it, encourage discussions amongst students and their families, and provide awareness and engagement across the state."

Please stop by Mrs. Meredith's room, F-3 if you'd like more information on the contest. Or, look at your home screen on Schoology with all the details! Let's stop the spread of this invasive insect!

Renaissance Club

Attention Students...

Do you like to plan activities and rewards? Are you a helpful, focused person?

If so, you might be interested in being considered for membership to the Renaissance Club.

Renaissance Club meet Day 2 during ER in Mrs. Light room.

Renaissance club members are responsible for manufacturing the Renaissance Cards, planning quarterly rewards, and helping to run our station at Field Day.

If you are interested and would like to be considered for possible membership, please complete the interest form located in the office and return it to Mrs. Light or Mrs. Ostimchuk.

Next week you will be contacted via Schoology regarding your membership.
